Join the best and brightest at Australia's no. 1 University.

The University of Melbourne is a comprehensive, research-intensive University based in Melbourne, Australia. Ranked no. 33 in the world*, the University is highly respected by international employers and delivers leadership in research, innovation, teaching and learning.

Established in 1853, shortly after the founding of the city of Melbourne, the University is one of Australia's oldest institutions. Melbourne has been the world's most liveable city since 2011.

As a University of Melbourne student, you will join a dynamic learning environment with a distinctive research edge. Our researchers are at the forefront of international scholarship in fields as diverse as human rights law, telecommunications and medical research.

Our emphasis on innovation and critical thinking, world-recognised research success, and ongoing pursuit of new teaching methodologies keep us at the forefront of higher education and makes our graduates highly sought after by employers across the globe.

Located a short walk or tram ride from the CBD of Melbourne, the University's Parkville campus is filled with green spaces and a mix of heritage and modern buildings reflecting the institution's long and distinguished history. It also has a full range of sporting facilities, banks, a post office, cafes, and an extensive range of retail and food outlets.
