Description of Institution

UNSW is not just one of the best universities in Australia – we're in the top 50 worldwide.

Ranked 49th in the world in the 2016 QS World University Rankings, UNSW is a founding member of the Group of Eight, a coalition of Australia's leading research-intensive universities, as well as a member of the prestigious international network Universitas 21.

Our University is globally recognised for cutting-edge teaching, research, state-of-the-art facilities and quality of student life. And our graduates are highly sought after by employers and amongst the highest paid in Australia.

We attract high-achieving students from across Australia and around the world. And with 13,000 international students from more than 120 different countries, we have one of Australia's most diverse student populations.

- A top university. We are consistently placed highly in a range of national and international ranking systems such as a ranking of 49th in the world by the 2016 QS World University Rankings, and 78th in the world by the 2016/17 Times Higher Education Rankings.
- An active member of Universitas 21, an international alliance of 23 leading universities in 15 countries, and a founding member of the prestigious Group of Eight (Go8) leading teaching and research universities in Australia.
- The first university worldwide to be awarded a five star plus ranking by QS World University Rankings in 2012, and retained the same rating again in 2013 and 2014.
- Educated more serving CEO's in Australia's top 50 companies than any other universities, according to 2012 Suncorp Banks Power Index.
- We are located closer to an ocean beach than any other university in Australia - with Coogee Beach only 5 minutes' drive away. We are also only 15 minutes away from Sydney's central business district and international airport.

General overview

Our main Kensington campus is located in the eastern suburbs of Sydney, approximately 15 minutes' drive from the central business district, Sydney Harbour and Sydney International Airport, and better still, it is also located closer to an ocean beach than any other university in Australia, with Coogee beach only 5 minutes' drive away! Our other major campuses are COFA in the Sydney suburb of Paddington and UNSW Canberra at ADFA. All three campuses provide a vibrant educational and communal environment.

Listing of courses

UNSW offers a wide range of degree programs, pre-university/foundation studies and English language courses. More than 900 degree programs are available at UNSW, ranging from undergraduate programs to postgraduate coursework programs and postgraduate research programs. Programs are offered through the Faculties of:

- Arts & Social Sciences
- Business School
- Built Environment
- Art & Design
- Engineering
- Law
- Medicine
- Science
- UNSW@ADFA (Australian Defence Force Academy, Canberra)

Research focus

UNSW is a founding member of both the Group of Eight, a coalition of Australia's leading research-intensive universities, and of the prestigious Universitas 21 international network. We are scored well above the world standard in 25 subject areas, and was the only university to receive the grade of 'well above average' in computer software, urban and regional planning, policy and administration, and film, television and digital media in the 2012 Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) outcomes. Our key areas of research strength include biomedical sciences, water, environment and sustainability, next generation materials and technologies, social policy, government and health policy, information and communications technology, robotics and devices, business, law and economics.

Overview of services offered

The student experience

UNSW is a vibrant intellectual, research and cultural hub. We offer a modern, dynamic and innovative teaching and learning environment with extensive social and recreational facilities. The UNSW campus is a beautiful, architecturally sophisticated place, offering an enviable cosmopolitan lifestyle for staff and students.

Study and research facilities are comprehensive, with a library network housing more than two million volumes and extensive electronic resources. There are hundreds of sport, recreational, social, political and religious clubs and societies, a vibrant cafe scene and an award-winning bookshop. Student support services include airport reception, accommodation placement services, orientation programs, academic and language support, banks, and health and counselling services.

Accommodation

At the UNSW Kensington campus, there are seven residential colleges on campus and one nearby. College accommodation provides single study/bedrooms, shared bathrooms, all meals and linen. UNSW also has two blocks of furnished, self-contained share apartments on and off campus, and a housing service, which provides assistance with finding private rental accommodation in suburbs around the University. This accommodation is usually shared with other students and varies considerably in style, standard and cost.
